Ready Go is a resource from Springboard for the Arts that connects neighborhoods, non-profits, businesses and individuals to artist-created, mobile tools that are purpose-built to pique curiosity and prompt interaction. Ready Go functions as a mechanism (think Equipment Rental or Etsy) that allows artists to offer proven, existing tools for hire.

Description

Now there is a toolkit for those interested in replicating the platform, or aspects of the project. The Ready Go toolkit is designed for a variety of audiences, collecting our resources and learning from doing the work. It includes our worksheets and resource lists for artists who want to think about making their work mobile. It has a sample RFQ and ideas for organizations, cities, or others who might want to commission a mobile artist tool.
